HENDERSONVILLE, Tennessee—The Canadian hotel industry recorded positive year-over-year results in the three key performance metrics during the week of 27 May through 2 June 2018, according to data from STR.

In comparison with the week of 28 May through 3 June 2017, the industry reported the following:

- Occupancy: +1.5% to 73.2%
- Average daily rate (ADR): +3.0% to CAD164.72
- Revenue per available room (RevPAR): +4.6% to CAD120.54

Among the provinces and territories, Nova Scotia registered the largest increase in RevPAR (+18.1 to CA136.18), due primarily to the highest lift in ADR (+12.7% to CAD166.55).

Saskatchewan experienced the only double-digit rise in occupancy (+11.4% to 62.8%).

British Columbia posted the only other double-digit increase in ADR (+10.6% to CAD201.70) and the second-highest jump in RevPAR (+11.8% to CAD161.28).

Overall, seven of the 11 reporting provinces and territories saw RevPAR growth.

Newfoundland and Labrador registered the largest decrease in RevPAR (-20.4% to CAD85.58), due to the steepest decline in occupancy (-20.0% to 57.7%).

Manitoba reported the largest drop in ADR (-4.2% to CAD120.11) and the second-largest decrease in RevPAR (-9.0% to CAD90.48).
